Employees Buy Shares in Mt. Vernon Industrial Fund

LOOKING AROUND: The Mt. Vernon Register-News reports that as of Sept. 22 there was $122,000 in Mt. Vernon new industries fund. Mt. Vernon New Industries, Inc., officials are setting up a new phase of the drive now — offering employees in all walks of life an opportunity to buy shares at $25 each under a payroll savings plan. Heads of businesses and industries will be asked to solicit their own employees. The shares can be paid on a quarterly basis or by payroll savings.

Under the payroll savings plan an employee may buy stock at the rate of $1 per week per share.

And I read that "faith" is that assurance that enables a person to eat blackberry jam on a picnic without looking to see whether the seeds move.

The Vienna Times this week carries a picture of Victor Hall of Harrisburg, a representative of Sugar Creek Produce Co., pointing to the hiding place of Thomas Lee Latham, who received 180 years for killing aged Mrs. Maggie Gray at Vienna.

As you remember, Latham escaped jail and was missing about eight days before he gave up.

Latham told a Times reporter that he spent three or four days and nights in the attic or loft of the Vienna Hatchery and Glen Taylor of Vienna set out to find it, looking in the attic over the chill room at his poultry dressing plant and produce building.

Latham had placed boxes and crates in front of his bed to hide it from view and had placed feed sacks between the ceiling joists to make a bed.

He existed on fresh eggs he took from the hatchery after closing hours.

And I also read this: "Early to bed and early to rise and your girl friend goes out with other guys."

And this week the Southern Illinoisan had a story which said that an addition to provide 13,000 more square feet of floor space will be built to the Herrin Norge washing machine plant. The existing plant has 150,000 square feet. Expansion will mean some additional employment. There were 972, an all-time high, working Monday of this week, and the 1,000-job mark is expected to be reached by the first of October.

The Eldorado Daily Journal reported the new city fire truck was scheduled to arrive this week. It replaces the one destroyed in a wheat field fire this summer.

And somebody else reported that the bigger the mouth, the easier to get the foot into it.

And we'll close with a little Sunshine. Young Teddy had taken a strong dislike to kindergarten. His mother used all sorts of arguments to get him to go. Finally she laid down the law firmly. He just had to go, that was all there was to it. "All right, mother," said Teddy. "If you want me to grow up to be just an old bead stringer, I'll go!"

Board Asks Approval of Sale of School Buildings In Election Tomorrow

Approval of sale of the school buildings formerly housing the Ingram Hill, Cain and Pleasant Valley rural schools, together with the sites, is sought by the Board of Education of Harrisburg school district 43 in an election at the Junior high school tomorrow.

If the sale is approved, the date of sale, terms and other legal notice will be given at a later date. Voting will be at the Junior high school in Harrisburg from 12 noon to 7 p. m.

Rule Woman Must Pay Lawyers $700,000 In Inheritance Case

AURORA, Ill. (AP)—The 2nd District Court of Appeals ruled here Thursday that a Chicago woman who inherited 3.12 million dollars must pay four lawyers a $700,000 fee.

Mrs. Constance K. Mock of Chicago filed suit to break the contract she had with the lawyers, alleging there was "undue influence" on her to sign it.

The lawyers said they had a contract calling for them to receive 20 per cent of any inheritance Mrs. Mock won.

She was represented by lawyers George F. Higgins, Winfield, Ill.; John A. Leahy, St. Louis, Mo.; Chester Farthing, East St. Louis, Ill.; and Joseph Sam Perry, Downers Grove, Ill. Perry is now a federal judge.

Study German Conditions For Joining EDC

Dulles Prepares To Fly to London For 9-Power Parley

WASHINGTON (AP)—West Germany has secretly given the Western powers a preview of its conditions for joining the European defense system, informed sources reported today.

The German views are said to have been circulated here and in other Allied capitals within the last few days in preparation for the nine-power conference on Germany opening in London Tuesday.

Diplomats are understood to be hopeful that the conditions will help speed a solution to the German rearmament problem at London and a meeting of the 14 North Atlantic Treaty nations next month.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles returned to Washington Thursday night to prepare for his flight to London Saturday. He is still bitter about French defeat of the European Defense Community plan which provided for controlled German arms partnership with the West. But he is said by aides to be anxiously searching for a European-built substitute plan the United States can support.

The State Department refused comment on the receipt of the German rearmament views. But diplomats said they generally parallel the EDC plan with "some operative modifications."

As understood here, the Germans would agree to an armed force of 12 divisions of troops and supporting forces—a figure set in the EDC plan. These forces would be "integrated" into the command structure of other Allied powers but details on this feature were said to be skimpy.

Germany also wants its full sovereignty restored by the United States, Britain and France. But the Germans would agree voluntarily to stationing of Allied troops on its soil while the rearmament program got going. Germany also would agree not to negotiate any separate peace treaty with Russia.

Finally, it is understood the Germans want entry into the 1948 pact with Britain, France, Belgium, Luxembourg and the Netherlands at the same time they are admitted to the 14-nation North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

LONDON (AP)—The United States was reported today by high diplomatic sources to have reached agreement with Britain and West Germany on "all essential details" of a new European defense pact that would bring Germany into both the Brussels and NATO alliances.

Eldorado Steam Bakery Sold to Louisville Firm

The Eldorado Steam Bakery was sold this past week to Grocers Baking company of Louisville, Ky. This firm produces Honey Krust brand products. The new owners plan to distribute their products from Eldorado, replacing all Nu-Life products with their own brand, Honey Krust. No change in personnel is contemplated.

The new owners, Grocers Baking company, have been in the baking industry for 50 years and distribute their Honey Krust brand in Indiana, Kentucky, and Tennessee as well as Illinois. The company produces a full line of bakery products.

The sale of the Eldorado Steam Bakery to Grocers Baking company was handled by Summers and Argus, Eldorado attorneys. Glen Dodds has been appointed as manager of the new Honey Krust baking operation in Eldorado.

U. S. Proposal Brings Hopes of Agreement on 'Atoms for Peace' Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—A U. S. proposal for a world conference on atomic energy gave hope to many U. N. delegates today that East-West agreement may be possible on President Eisenhower's "atoms for peace" program.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles made the proposal to the U. N. General Assembly late Thursday in a broad outline of the plan which Mr. Eisenhower made public in a U. N. speech last December.

Dulles called for creation of an international agency to start work "as early as next year" and said all nations "interested in participating and willing to take on the responsibilities of membership" will be welcome to join.

In a speech which was received enthusiastically from diplomats of almost all nations except the Soviet Union and its satellites, Dulles also made these major proposals:

1. The calling of an international scientific conference next spring under the auspices of the United Nations to "consider this whole vast subject."

2. Opening early next year in the United States of a reactor trainings school where students from abroad "may learn the working principles of atomic energy with specific regard to its peaceful uses."

3. Invitation of a "substantial number" of foreign medical and

Japan Demands Compensation For H-Death

TOKYO (AP)—The Japanese Cabinet demanded today that the United States pay five million yen (about $13,850) to the family of a fisherman who died from the effects of an American hydrogen bomb.

Foreign Minister Katsuo Okazaki said the Cabinet agreed that this was the amount which the United States should pay to the widow and three children of 40-year old Aikichi Kuboyama, who died Thursday.

The amount is about 10 times as much as Japan expects the United States to pay to 22 other fishermen who were burned by radioactive dust which fell on the tuna fishing boat Fortunate Dragon from the March 1 Bikini H-bomb test.

Okazaki said the Tokyo government has "discussed" with U. S. officials the possibility of shifting the U. S. H-bomb tests away from the Bikini-Enewotok proving grounds, but he indicated it was not a formal request. He added that it did not appear as if there was any other appropriate site for the test blasts.

Japanese officials have charged that Bikini test explosions have poisoned the Pacific Ocean and its fish, one of Japan's most valuable sources of food and income.

Meanwhile, U. S. Ambassador John Allison sent a check for a million yen (about $2,270) to Kuboyama's widow.

"While no sum of money can compensate for your loss," Allison said in a short letter, "it is the desire of the government of the United States that something be done to make life easier for you and your children in the future."

Illinois to Draft 1,491 in November

Illinois has been called upon to furnish 1,491 men for induction into the Army in November, it was announced today by Colonel Paul G. Armstrong, State Director of Selective Service.

As in recent months the November call will in all probability be filled with men aged 21 and older and it will not be necessary to induct anyone under 21 except for those who volunteer ahead of their regular turn, Colonel Armstrong said. The November call is the largest levied on Illinois since June 1953 when the State was called on to induct 2,009 men. At that time the national quota was 32,000 instead of 23,000 as at present.

Coroner's Jury Finds Mt. Vernon Man Killed Wife, Self

MOUNT VERNON, Ill. (AP)—Howard Wilkey, 53, shot and killed his wife, Anna, 45, and then fatally wounded himself Wednesday afternoon, a coroner's jury ruled Thursday.

The bodies of Mrs. Wilkey and her husband, who died five hours after the shooting without regaining consciousness, were found in their home north of here by Robert Malcolm, Mrs. Wilkey's son by a previous marriage. Both had been shot with a .22 caliber rifle.

Authorities said the couple apparently had quarreled and Mrs. Wilkey was beaten severely about the head and face before being shot.

surgical experts to participate in the work of U. S. cancer hospitals, where atomic energy techniques are helpful.

Dulles disclosed that Russia, in a note delivered in Moscow on Wednesday, expressed its "readiness to talk further" on the plan for peaceful use of atomic energy.

But Dulles said the note "gave no indication that the U. S. S. R. had receded from its negative position" and informed sources saw little chance of early resumption of Soviet-American atomic talks without considerable political argument.

Russia turned down Mr. Eisenhower's "atoms for peace" plan on the ground that nuclear weapons first must be outlawed.

Dulles said, however, that "the United States remains ready to negotiate with the Soviet Union."

Gore Charges Politics in Brownell Order

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Albert M. Gore today denounced the "political" implications of a Justice Department order to U. S. attorneys throughout the nation to start grand jury inquiries into housing irregularities.

The Tennessee Democrat questioned whether the intent of the department was to "urge political indictments only to release a political stump speech."

"The latter can be dismissed in this election year but the former would be a serious matter indeed," Gore told a reporter.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Warren Olney III Thursday directed all U. S. attorneys to launch investigations of any criminal cases involved in the multi-million dollar housing scandals. He predicted "a considerable number" of bribery cases involving housing promoters and federal employees.

In a letter to the attorneys, Olney said an administration investigation of the Federal Housing Administration's apartment construction program showed it was "ridicled with corruption under the Truman administration."

Gore said he "wondered" if Olney intended to start with an investigation of Guy T. O. Hollyday, who served as head of the FHA under the Eisenhower administration.

Hollyday was ousted from his post in April when the housing scandals were brought to light. Federal Housing Chief Albert M. Cole said Hollyday had condoned "illegal or unethical" actions by other FHA officials but called him "a good Christian gentleman."

Gore demanded to know why Olney, head of the Justice Department Criminal Division, "withheld information . . . for so long" from Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.), whose Joint Committee on Federal Spending investigated the alleged housing program abuses. Gore also wanted to know why Olney "failed to act so long after warnings from Senator Byrd."

"After all, the administration has now been in power nearly two years," Gore said. "Its mistakes can no longer be blamed on its inheritance."

Sen. McCarthy Cancels Talks to Aid Illinois GOP

Senator Suffers Sinus Attack In Washington

By United Press
Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy has cancelled one of two Illinois campaign speeches and may not make the other.

The Wisconsin Republican, reported suffering a "bad sinus attack" in Washington, cancelled a scheduled appearance at Naperville Sunday.

A speech at Bloomington the next Sunday still is scheduled, but a spokesman said it will depend on McCarthy's condition.

McCarthy is visiting Bethesda, Md., Naval Hospital each morning for treatment and is resting at home on his doctor's orders.

Doubts Campaign Affected
Joseph T. Meek, Republican candidate for the seat of incumbent Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.), said he doubted that the speech cancellation would affect the campaign.

State Treasurer Elmer J. Hoffman, chairman of the Du Page County Republican Central Committee, said 5,000 invitations already have been mailed to GOP leaders of six counties inviting them to hear McCarthy speak at Naperville.

He said he had "no idea" as yet who would replace McCarthy on the program.

Most state Republicans indicated they were "disappointed and sad" that McCarthy wouldn't appear.

Meek Attacks Douglas
In campaign speeches Thursday, Meek accused Douglas of "seeking to destroy faith and forecasting misery for farmers."

He said this "is just proof that Douglas would rather be reelected than right."

Meek said the only thing that enabled the Democrats to maintain a good farm record while they were in office was World War II and the Korean War.

Douglas said at Urbana that a Democratic Congress must be elected in November to halt "the take-away, give-away selfish interest of the Republicans."

He said "I have always opposed and I shall always oppose the selfish interests and special privilege."

"Selfish interests have lived in clover under the Old Guard-dominated Republican 83rd Congress," Douglas said.

Miss Marjory Zimmer Selected to Attend SIU Leadership Camp

One hundred and fifty Southern Illinois university freshmen have been selected to participate in a Freshman Leadership camp tomorrow at the City State park, according to Miss Betty Greenleaf, SIU director of student activities.

Miss Marjory Zimmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. L. Zimmer, is the only local student who will participate in the camp among the 150 freshmen named.

Sponsored by the SIU Student Council, the camp program is planned to help freshmen with problems of selecting extra-curricular activities and to develop development of good leadership characteristics.

Five Auto Tours of Illinois Ozarks Area Planned on Sundays in October

Five automobile tours, one for each Sunday in October, has been planned for the purpose of getting people better acquainted with the Illinois Ozarks. Each tour will take different routes and will visit colorful back trails and little-known beauty spots. All are open to the public without charge. Religious services will be observed each Sunday following the lunch period.

The tours have been planned and will be personally guided by W. H. Farley of Harrisburg and Wayman Presley of Makanda. Farley is chairman of both the Trigg Ozark Tours and the Recreation Committee of the S. I. L. Presley was born in the Ozark woods.

All are requested to bring lunch which will be eaten separately for convenience. Drinking water for the day is also a necessity. Tours are arranged with a minimum of hiking and are to be held even if weather is wet. Family groups are also invited.

The tours will be as follows:
Sunday, Oct. 3—Leave west side L. C. depot Carbondale 9 a. m. Visit Panther Den hollow 20 miles southeast. One of the Midwest's prettiest rock formations and practically unknown. Quiet little Water Valley church for lunch and worship service. Fossil beds, Kerr Bluff, Rock House, prehistoric Indian bluff homes and hidden stone "Buffalo trap." Tour ends at Cobden 3 p. m.

Sunday, Oct. 24—Leave south side square Harrisburg 9 a. m. Tour Saline and Pope county's colorful trails. Salt springs, Indian Ladder, Old Iron Furnace etc. Ends Harrisburg 3 p. m.

Sunday, Oct. 31—Afternoon only. Leave village of Lick Creek 10 miles northeast of Anna, 1:30 p. m. Cedar Grove Bluff and cemetery with 38 identical phantom grave markers, buffalo trap and Draper's bluff. Supper and vesper services on Sunset Point. (From this point one can see most of Union county.) Here each will again need candles for the service and to light the way down winding path. Tour ends at Lick Creek 8 p. m.

Farley and Presley urge all those who plan to make the tours to send them advance notification to help in advance planning of the tours.

Community Concert Program Offers Music Of the Highest Type

The opportunity for residents of this area to participate in the Community Concert program for the approaching season will close tomorrow, and after that anyone wishing a membership will be required to wait another year to join. Single concert admission tickets are not sold.

The Community Concert program has been well accepted in the Harrisburg area, but not by as many people as should participate. Music of the highest type, of a variety to appeal to music lovers in general, is offered by the concerts. In addition to the entertainment, the programs offer training in the appreciation of good music, and participation by an increasing number of people is recommended.

Mrs. Joseph Hart, general chairman of the Community Concert Ass'n, states general enthusiasm for the concerts is higher this year, due to the help of the Columbia Concerts representative, Mrs. Gretl Waldapfel. She is at the concert headquarters at Vine and Poplar streets every day, and would be glad to meet any who wish to call, or will discuss the concerts over the telephone—number 1498.

Says Mrs. Hart:

"Mrs. Waldapfel is a native of Austria, having come to America only 16 years ago. She still considers America the most friendly and lovely place on earth. She is working with this concert company, in order to help the people of America to learn more about and to enjoy more, the fine music produced by composers from her own home land. America is young in many fields, art, literature, and music. Our painters, writers and composers have done many fine things which she appreciates too, but we all know we need to grow in understanding and appreciation of every fine, better thing.

"Unless we hear these things we will never have this opportunity to know about them. Mrs. Waldapfel is proving to be of most valuable assistance and we, the general chairman, and the sales personnel, want to take this opportunity to thank her for her help and her wonderful inspiration and to wish every fine thing in this world for her, and we sincerely hope she will return to us next year."

NATO Investigates Explosion at Guided Missile Base in Germany

BITBURG, Germany (AP)—The North Atlantic Treaty Organization assigned investigators today to determine whether an explosion at a U. S. guided missile base means the Allies must revamp safety factors in their European-wide pipeline and fuel storage system.

NATO council headquarters in Paris said pipeline experts would go to Germany to assist on the spot investigators to find out why a safety test Thursday backfired into West Germany's second biggest postwar explosion disaster.

Thirty persons died in the blast that ripped the U. S. Matador guided missile base here. Five to 10 persons were missing and German authorities said "about 30" were hospitalized, 10 in critical condition.

All of the dead were French and German. U. S. authorities said none of the casualties were American.

The toll of dead and injured was exceeded only by a plant blast at Ludwigshafen in 1948 in which 207 persons died, 3,800 were injured and 12,740 homes were damaged.

A NATO spokesman in Paris said the 14-nation defense organization was concerned about the explosion because of the network of pipes and fuel dumps stretching along NATO's 4,000-mile perimeter from the North Sea to Turkey's frontier with Russia.

The blast came at 4 p. m. (8 a. m. CST) Thursday in an underground jet fuel "tank farm" south of the big U. S. Air Force and pilotless bomber base near the Luxembourg and Belgian borders.

One of the tanks containing one million gallons of jet fuel exploded in a great geyser of flaming fuel after gasoline had been ignited intentionally as part of the experiment.

Flames from the test gasoline were sucked into the tank itself or escaping fumes mixed with the burning fuel above. The shock was felt 40 miles away in Luxembourg and Belgium but authorities said the blast itself was surprisingly quiet, "as if a massive door had slammed shut far away."

Four American helicopter pilots helped firemen recover the bodies and evacuate the injured. The Americans flew mission after mission until they were told it was unsafe to land in the flaming area.

McLeansboro Lifts Water Use Restrictions After 4.21 Inch Rainfall

The rainfall which came to this area Monday night was of great intensity north of the Harrisburg area. At McLeansboro, U. S. Weather Observer F. G. Frazier reported 4.21 inches of rainfall, the heaviest since August 15, 1946.

As a result of the heavy downpour, the McLeansboro city reservoir level was raised 24 inches, and all water use restrictions have been removed.

Critical Group Gives President A Big Ovation

Eisenhower Praises Labor Delegates For Anti-Communism

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (AP)—President Eisenhower made a dramatic personal appearance today before an American Federation of Labor convention that for a week has bitterly criticized his administration.

The President promised the AFL to "study thoroughly and sympathetically" the differences between the administration and the AFL.

He brought loud applause when he said "we both do agree on fighting communism."

It was an 18 minute appearance. As he came in to take the rostrum he received a standing ovation 24 seconds long from 750 persons including nearly 700 delegates to the 73rd annual convention.

He gave his short talk under a huge neon sign, hanging since the beginning of the convention over the speaker's stand, which says "Labor Conquers All"—the AFL motto.

Prefacing his remarks with a statement that "I understand that by tradition you're completely and absolutely non-political," Mr. Eisenhower said "I can't say what a relief it is to address a non-political audience." This sally was greeted with a roar of laughter.

Notes AFL Disapproval
He said "I read in the newspapers that this group doesn't approve of some of the things I believe in, but I don't think this affects our personal relationship and friendship."

"I know one specific field where we do agree, however," he said. And his voice tightened. "I should commend the AFL for its history of anti-communism—I think we do agree there."

"To this group I look for support. Your views will be studied thoroughly and sympathetically, just as with every other big group in the nation."

"I regret the failure to revise the Taft-Hartley law and the union-busting provisions."

"But even though this isn't a political discussion," he said with a laugh, "a solid Democratic vote defeated it (the Taft-Hartley revision). I'm going to recommend again that we revise the Taft-Hartley law." A roar of applause greeted this.

"In 1952 I promised this revision and I want to be able to say to you that I kept that promise."

"This I am sure, although there is no proof, I am an earnest friend of the man who works. I respect and admire what organized labor has done for this country. I'm not only organized labor's friend. They are a great part of this country—and everything that is a great part of this country engages every part of my heart and mind."

"I think there are a couple of other things on which we agree. I don't think you want me to start up the war in Korea and the casualty list. I don't think you want me to oppose social security or increase taxes."

It was a dramatic climax to a

A Typically American Show

Editorial — By BRUCE BLOSSAT
Some of the best things in American life are often found to be so intertwined with sentimentality, flamboyance, overdoes of showmanship and lapses in taste that they cannot be separated and enjoyed in a kind of isolated purity. But that does not mean they cannot be enjoyed.

Our political conventions provide an example. Anyone who glues himself to a TV or radio set for the duration of one of these affairs is in for some of the most boring hours on earth.

Good rich corn will come cascading down upon him. He will hear some of the worst propaganda imaginable, presenting distorted pictures of men, issues and events.

Yet a few would deny that U. S. national conventions are the most exciting, the most human public experiences most of us ever have a chance to know. Through all the carnival atmosphere, beneath the encrustations of boredom, runs the intense drama of conflict, of clashing wills, of minds bent toward ingenious tactics of final triumph and shattering defeat.

Most important, despite the distortions, the phony argument, and the distractions, our conventions most of the time seem amazingly to pick the candidates for high office that the people prefer. In other words, they fulfill their purpose.

Another example, from the more frivolous realm, is the yearly "Miss America" beauty pageant in Atlantic City.

The other night TV brought us the final hours of this celebrated test of feminine charms. The corn was there in abundance, as anyone would guess. The tricks of showmanship were painfully obvious. The jokes were weak. An air of exaggerated self-importance hung over the proceedings, and infected many of the participants.

And still, the pageant held something good. It was warmly human, open-hearted, unashamed in its sentimentality. In all these respects, it was typically American. There was the excitement of a contest, of course, but a deeper excitement lay in catching this cluster of girls at a moment of great meaning. Diplomats will not furrow their brows, nor will cabinets fall over the outcome at Atlantic City. But to the girls it was important.

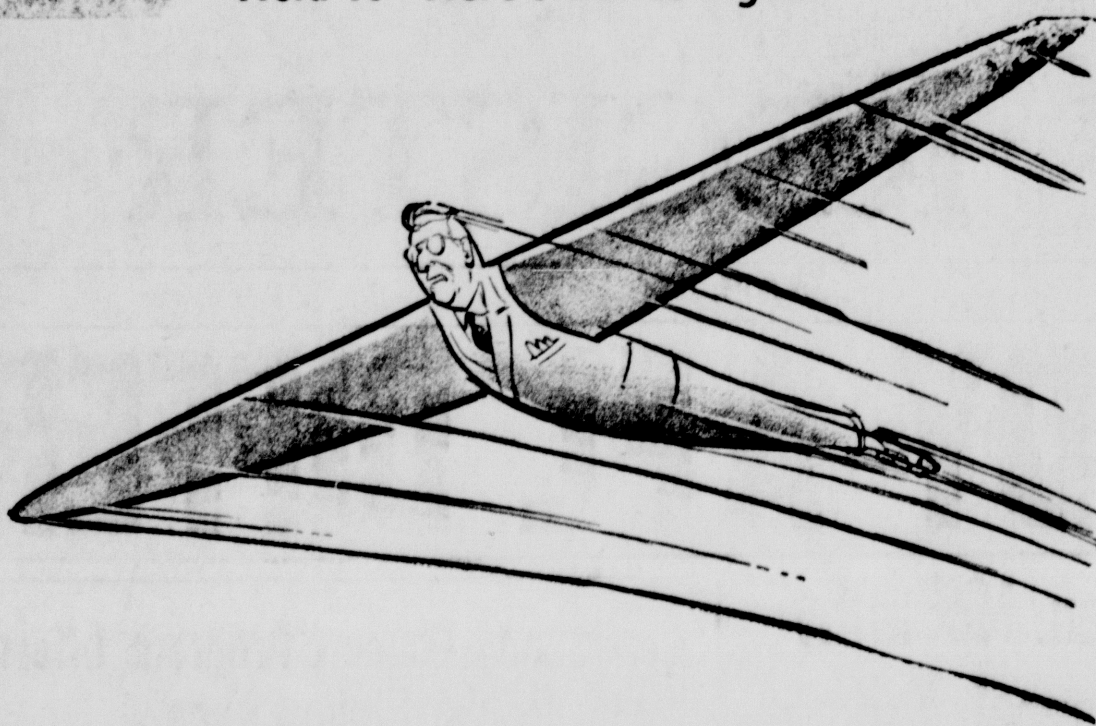

This was really show business, and some of our social philosophies insist that the sort of fame "show people" gain inevitably "ruins them as human beings."

The evidence on this point is at least conflicting. Certainly none of the former "Miss Americas" winners who turned up on the TV screen seemed on the road to ruin.

The best shot of the evening, the camera glimpse that made the pageant a revealing and reassuring show of genuine human feeling, was the look of mixed disbelief and happiness on Miss California's face when she realized she had won.

A realm of fancy, maybe, this world of Atlantic City, but rewarding and comforting, nonetheless, in a way that even bright promise from the business charts and the councils of state can never quite match.

"Hold It—Here's Dulles Again"

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By BREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Sen. Pat McCarran Put Present Governor of Nevada On Senate Payroll; Gov. Russell Got His Expenses Paid To Switzerland, Thanks To McCarran; Teamsters' Boss Beck Reports To Ike On Europe.

WASHINGTON. — Sen. Pat McCarran, the venerable Republican from Nevada, is one of the most blase men in the Senate. He also likes to see politics operate on a self-financing basis. To accomplish this he has a happy faculty for putting state politicians on the federal payroll even though they are doing almost nothing for Uncle Sam, just as long as they are doing something for him in Nevada.

Take the case of Gov. Charles H. Russell of Nevada, now running for re-election. Probably few Nevadans know it, but McCarran kept Russell on the federal payroll while he was running for governor last time.

What happened was that McCarran at first encouraged ex-Governor Vail Pittman to run again for governor, then double-crossed him and backed Russell. He followed this up by putting Russell on the Senate ECA watchdog committee, which just happens to be the only committee whose vouchers are not audited by the General Accounting Office, a little loophole arranged by Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire when he was chairman of the committee during the 80th Congress. This loophole, incidentally, permitted Bridges to send ex-Sen. Worth Clark of Idaho on a trip to the Orient to report on aid to Chiang Kai-Shek without an OK from either Congress or the State Department.

In any case, McCarran happily took advantage of the loophole and paid Russell $860.85 per month as a so-called committee consultant during the same time he was being groomed to run for governor.

Russell remained there until June 30, 1950. He was nominated for governor on Sept. 5, 1950. On Dec. 13, 1950—well after Russell's election—he was still drawing expenses, though the vouchers claimed these expenses covered his earlier service with the committee. Since the General Accounting Office could not audit the vouchers, taxpayers will have to take McCarran's word for it. He signed the vouchers.

JUNKET TO SWITZERLAND
The vouchers themselves show up a couple interesting items. For example, Russell took a junket at committee expense to Switzerland during the tourist season at the Alpine resorts. This might have been considered committee business, except that the only purpose of the committee was to oversee the Marshall Plan. And Switzerland was the only country in western Europe that flatly refused to participate in the Marshall Plan.

Another interesting item on Russell's expense account is air transportation to Reno and rental of an automobile during the March 21-April 24, 1950 period. This happened to be about the same time that Russell was campaigning for the gubernatorial nomination.

During this period, Russell collected his full Senate salary, plus an additional $315 for 35 days of personal expenses, plus $150 for renting an automobile for "official business," plus the air transportation home. And it seems highly doubtful that there was much ECA business in Reno during the primary campaign.

WASHINGTON PIPELINE

Dave Beck, head of the Teamsters, paid an interesting call on President Eisenhower after he got back from his recent trip to Europe. He told Ike he had discussed the Red China trip of British Labor leaders with Herbert Morrison and asked whether the Laborites were now cooperating with the Churchill Conservatives to promote the Far East trade. Morrison denied this, said the timing of the trip was unfortunate. Beck also told Ike that British atomic energy for peacetime uses was far ahead of the United States, that in a short situation that has been building up a head of steam ever since the AFL opened its convention here Monday.

When the President finished his 13-minute talk, AFL President George Meany arose and commented:

"Your presence indicates to me the solemn heritage of this country all the way down to the founding fathers—it indicates that you recognize, as we do, the right of free men to differ on any issue. It indicates you came here knowing full well some of our criticism. Let me say the criticism is not 100 per cent."

"As long as we can preserve the right to say what we think as demonstrated by the President here, then America with God's help is secure."

Before going to the AFL convention, the chief executive, after a warm reception at a breakfast meeting of about 100 Republicans, said:

"I assure you that in just about a half hour or so I am to appear before another audience who are not going to be nearly as friendly."

Wants GOP Congress

He advocated that the Republicans in this election year "avoid the extremes and take the common sense judgment of the United States," as a guide to returning a GOP majority to the House and Senate.

In an outwardly hostile mood, the convention adopted a stinging resolution calling for mobilization of the AFL's 10 million membership and a huge war chest to defeat Republican congressional candidates in November.

Called Threat to Economy

The resolution declared that the President's policies threatened the country with "a major economic catastrophe," and called on voters to cast ballots against Republican candidates and "return our government to its people."

The union's resolution denounced the Republican administration for having "demonstrated that the forces of reaction... are pursuing the same philosophy of government which brought our nation to the brink of economic disaster prior to the New Deal."

Calls for Campaign Funds

It called for raising a huge campaign treasury to support congressional candidates "committed to the support of labor" and for strengthening of the AFL's political action organization, the Labor League for Political Education.

time they would have an atomic power plant in actual use... Eisenhower paid tribute to the work of free trade unions in stopping communism abroad... When the venerable, much-loved "Cap" Harding, Democrat, died the other day, the man who sent the biggest wreath to his funeral was his political opponent, GOP Congressman Dick Simpson of Pennsylvania. Each was in charge of re-electing congressmen of opposing political parties, but sincerely respected the other. Harding will be sorely missed on Capitol Hill.

Governor Dewey's labor adviser, Merlyn Pitzele, has advised Dewey that Senator Ives will get heavy A. F. of L. support in the New York race for governor. Other labor leaders claim that Ives could have defeated the Taft-Hartley bill had he thrown his weight against it. Marginal senators followed Ives' lead, however, and voted for his amendment.

The depression is so bad in the coal-mining areas of Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Kentucky that unemployed miners are being invited to hire out to hospitals for $2.50 a day, plus food, to serve as "normal controls." This doesn't mean they undergo experimental surgery, but eat the same food as sick people and live under the same conditions.

Galatia Home Bureau Meets With Mrs. E. M. Cardwell
Mrs. E. M. Cardwell entertained the Galatia Home Bureau unit Tuesday afternoon. The new president, Mrs. John Hill, called the meeting to order. Mrs. Mary Harper, home adviser, announced the annual Home Bureau meeting which is being held today, and a two-day women's camp for Sept. 28-29 at the 4-H campsite at West Frankfort where four different crafts will be taught.

The lesson given by the home adviser on "Belt construction and fastenings" gave many helpful tips to make a tailored product.

The hostess served pie a la mode and a cold drink. Mrs. Aaron Allen was guest at the meeting. The guests admired Mrs. Cardwell's lovely flowers and especially a philodendron which was yards long and trained about the entrance hallway.

Good Neighbor Club Plans Family Night

The Good Neighbor club met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Flossie Land with most of the members present. The family night was planned for Sept. 24 with a wiener roast at Karol park at 6 p. m. A cash donation was voted for the polo fund and each member brought a gift for Mrs. Otto Henn whose birthday fell on club day. Mrs. Henn is recuperating from an auto accident of eight weeks ago.

A farewell birthday breakfast was planned for Oct. 16 honoring Mrs. Land, who is leaving shortly after for Albuquerque, N. Mex., where she will make her home with her daughter.

Mrs. George Bond received the door prize. Other prizes were from the hostess' accumulated possessions which each recipient will greatly treasure. Delectable refreshments were served.

The October meeting will be with Mrs. Chas. Lockwood.

John C. Small and family were dinner guests Sunday of Mrs. Eva Childers and son, Gail.

The MYF groups from Mt. Moriah and Tate's chapel plan a fish fry at Cave-in-Rock Saturday. They will meet in Galatia at 4 p. m. and go in a body. Bring picnic supper and materials to fish fry.

Members of the Farm Bureau and Home Bureau boards and families held a picnic and conference Monday evening at the 4-H camp at West Frankfort.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Henn were Friday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Droit.

Mrs. Stella Milligan and Wright Cotter and family were Sunday dinner guests of Paul Droit and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Tate and Bert Tate of Galatia and Mr. and Mrs. Ewing Tate of Pontiac, Mich., visited Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Lockwood Friday.

John C. Small and son, Joe, and Paul Droit, in company with L. B. Kimmel attended the national clowning matches at Olney Saturday.

Rev. Irvin Braden conducted a devotional service at the Rest Home in Galatia Sunday at 3 p. m. The John R. Pemberton family furnished the music.

The Ralph Newton family of Harvey spent the week end with Mrs. Flossie Land.

Miss Ethel Lois Martin, Kenneth L. Rann Exchange Vows at Pontiac, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Rann

Before an altar adorned with baskets of white and pale pink gladioli against a background of greenery Miss Ethel Lois Martin, Pontiac, Mich., and Kenneth L. Rann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Rann, Harrisburg, exchanged wedding vows Saturday, Aug. 21, at 6:30 p. m. in the First General Baptist church in Pontiac. Rev. Robert Garner performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Ammon Martin, chose for her wedding a ballerina length gown of Spanish lace and nylon mesh designed Spanish style with a high stand-up collar and tight fitting sleeves. Her fingertip veil was secured to a crown of rhinestone and pearl. She wore a single strand of pearls and matching earrings, a gift of the bridegroom, and carried a bouquet of white roses, carnations and lily of the valley with lovers knots.

Mrs. Rowena Hermanson, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, wearing a ballerina length gown of yellow net and carrying a bouquet of yellow and brown carnations.

Wendell Hermanson, Royal Oak, Mich., served as best man, and Gene Elrod and James Bushman were ushers.

Carlyn Kolian sang "I Love You Truly" and "O Promise Me." The bridegroom's mother was dressed in navy blue with black accessories wearing a corsage of pink carnations.

A lawn party followed immediately.

Mrs. Walter Coulter Hostess To Presbyterian Fidelity Class

The Fidelity class of the Presbyterian church met Tuesday evening with Mrs. Walter Coulter.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Steve Farrar, chairman, who conducted the business session. Roll call was answered by naming a character from the Old Testament. Miss Julia Williamson gave an inspiring devotion on "Prayer" closing with a prayer poem which she had composed.

The Bible quiz was conducted by Mrs. Farrar. Winners of the quiz were Miss Julia Williamson and Mrs. Bess McCormick.

This was the birthday month of six members of the class, Mrs. J. M. Burley, Mrs. Harry Barter, Mrs. Walter Coulter, Mrs. Louis Kato, Mrs. Stella Brasher and Mrs. Louis Gall Jr.

A delicious birthday cake and punch were served to those present: Mrs. Louis Gall Jr., Miss Julia Williamson, Mrs. Steve Farrar, Mrs. Verner Joyner, Miss Edith Morrison, Mrs. Ora Stiff, Mrs. Susannah Horvath, Mrs. Louis Kato, Mrs. Owenley Furman, Miss Mary Morrison and three guests, Mrs. Carrie Wilson, Mrs. Pearl Thomson and Mrs. Bess McCormick.

Harrisburg Woman's Club To Meet Monday Afternoon

The Harrisburg Woman's club will meet Monday at 2 p. m. for the first meeting in the club room.

Mrs. Russell Malan will be chairman of the program, "Education." The meditation will be given by Mrs. E. B. Webster, and "An Exposition of the Common Learning Techniques in the Junior High School" will be presented by Ronald Darnell.

Music will be furnished by the Junior high school group under the direction of Mrs. Virginia Ridenour.

Hostesses will be Mrs. C. R. Moore, Mrs. O. L. Turner Jr., Mrs. Eli Laserson and Mrs. L. M. Hancock.

The board of directors is asked to meet at 1:45 for a brief business session before the regular meeting.

ately after the wedding at 140 West Colgate, in Pontiac. The host and hostesses were Mr. and Mrs. Ammon Martin and Mrs. Agnes Rau.

The bride is a graduate of the Baxter Central high school with the class of 1940, and the bridegroom is a graduate of the Harrisburg Township high school with the class of 1942. Both are employed at Pontiac Motors.

The couple left immediately after the reception for Niagara Falls and are now at home at 60 Washington street in Pontiac, Mich.

At present they are in Harrisburg visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Rann who also attended the wedding.

First Christian Ruth Gray Class Has Potluck

The Ruth Gray Sunday school class of the First Christian church met Tuesday evening at the church for a potluck dinner.

Mrs. Frank Patterson presented the devotion.

New officers were elected and are as follows: Mrs. Willard Rutherford, president; Mrs. Cecil Harris, vice president, and Mrs. Stanley Wilson, secretary and treasurer.

Hostesses were the outgoing officers, Mrs. Bernice McMahan, president, and Mrs. Alonzo Shewmake Jr., secretary and treasurer.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Glen Daugherty and Glen Jr., Mrs. Bill Sloan, Mrs. Frank Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Shewmake Jr. and Kenny, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Harris, Sharon and Susie, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer McDowell, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Aldridge, Greta, Roger and Gary, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. Vance Brackney, Bill and Bob, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Boatright, and Doris Jean, Mrs. Gail Jackson, Linda and Janet, Mrs. Helen Rutherford, Paula and Carol, Mrs. Bernice McMahan.

The October meeting will be a Halloween party and members are asked to come masked.

High School Home Bureau Unit Holds Regular Meeting

The High School unit of Home Bureau met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Henry Boorman with Mrs. John Raley as assistant hostess.

New officers were installed by Mrs. Everett Stricklin and each was presented a corsage by the outgoing chairman, Mrs. Willard Morse. New officers are Mrs. J. Klein, chairman; Mrs. Willard Morse, vice chairman; Lorene Riggs, secretary; Mrs. Bill Brashers, program chairman; Lucille Lee, recreation chairman.

The lesson on the use and care of the sewing machine was given by Mrs. Clyde Webb and Mrs. John Raley. The minor topic, "Making and Closing of Belts," was presented by Mrs. Albert Webb.

Mrs. Blanch Seates Hostess To Raleigh Home Bureau Unit

The Raleigh Home Bureau unit met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Blanch Seates. The home adviser, Mrs. Mary Harper, gave the major topic, "New Food Products Available," and Mrs. Elizabeth Bishop gave the minor topic, "Belts and Methods of Closing," both of which were well prepared and interesting.

After the business session delicious refreshments were served to the following: Mesdames Dorothy Mings, Lora Upchurch, Mary Harper, Evelyn Wesley, Mary Evelyn Abney, Peggy Peyton, Florence Parks, Genevieve Jones, Ruth Upchurch, Faye Williams and Elizabeth Bishop.

Pride of Arrow Hostess to Dist. 29: Observe Founding of Rebekah Odd Fellowship Degree

Approximately one hundred Rebekahs, including a group of local Theta Rho girls from Club No. 8, met at the I. O. O. F. hall Sept. 16 to celebrate the founding of the beautiful Rebekah degree of Odd Fellowship.

Mrs. Lola Cox, noble grand of Pride of Arrow, presided. After the regular opening she presented her program committee, Mrs. Madge Johnson, chairman, assisted by Miss Mildred Suver and Mrs. Sara Suver, who were responsible for the impressive special program marking the anniversary of the Rebekah degree.

The program included a tableau of Friendship, Love and Truth by the Mary E. Shearer lodge of Elizabethtown. The soloist sang very beautifully as the F. L. T. tableau was formed.

A tableau was given by Pride of Arrow, before a candlelighted cross bearing out the theme of "The Book and the Rose," with the poem by Mrs. Naomi Rees. The participants, bearing the moon and seven stars, recited appropriate verses as each took her place in the tableau.

A short program conducted by the noble grand and her officers explained the meaning and purpose of the meeting—the institution of the degree, its practical workings and social order, and the monuments marking the progress of the Rebekah influence upon the Order.

An interesting talk by Atty. Don Scott told about the Children's and Old Folks' homes. He has been chairman of the children's home board at Lincoln, Ill., for more than 12 years.

The soloist for the evening was James Suver, noble grand of Arrow lodge, Harrisburg.

The Theta Rho girls' part of the program was greatly enjoyed by everyone. Judy Morse read a poem composed by herself, "A Tribute to Pride of Arrow." Janice Stiff did a twirling act and Elaine Whiteside and Bunny Upchurch sang a duet. The group of girls sang "It is No Secret What God Can Do," accompanied at the piano by Barbara Dunn.

In her talk the district president complimented the girls and their talent. Miss Mildred Suver, their leader, told of several of their activities. They take part in all worthwhile civic projects and are busy doing nice things for hospital patients, missions, etc.

The Blessing and the Divine benediction was by the lodge chaplain, Mrs. Muriel Canham.

At the close of the evening sandwiches, cup cakes and punch, bearing out the Rebekah colors of pink and green, were served.

Most persons with normal eyes can read for six hours without interruption.

New Candlelight Unit Officers Assume Duties

The Candlelight Home Bureau unit met Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. Glynn McCormack for the regular monthly meeting.

Mrs. Bill Keen, retiring chairman, gave a brief summary of the work accomplished during the past year and then turned the meeting over to Mrs. Fred Wilmoth, who is chairman for this year. New officers took over their duties Wednesday night.

During the business meeting some changes in the amendments were read and discussed for the approval of the unit, and the schedule of the year for meeting places and lessons was prepared.

Mrs. Clyde Webb of the High School unit gave an interesting major topic lesson, "The Efficient Use of the Sewing Machine."

During the social hour there was much talk of the "come as you are" coffee with which the retiring officers surprised the members on Sunday morning at 6 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Glenn Wal-which everybody enjoyed although some were not quite awake.

The October meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Glen Ingram.

Mrs. McCormack was assisted in serving delicious refreshments by Mrs. Hal Smith, Mrs. Glenn Wallace and Mrs. Lonnie Lamkin to Mrs. Ed Bean, Mrs. Dick Carpenter, Mrs. Harold Empson, Mrs. John Foster, Mrs. Bill Gall, Mrs. Glen Ingram, Mrs. Bill Keen, Mrs. Ed Cole, Mrs. James McGowan, Mrs. Sam Potter, Mrs. S. V. Questelle, Mrs. John Sligham, Mrs. Fred Wilmoth, Mrs. Eugene McCormick, Mrs. John Wagner and Mrs. Max McDowell.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Markham Honored With Wedding Shower

A household shower was held at the home of Mrs. Rena Shires in Muddy in honor of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Markham.

Refreshments were served to the following: Mrs. Minnie Watson, Mrs. Ethel Disney, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Kertis, Mike Beech, J. C. Irvin, Muddy, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Kinney and daughter, Elizabeth Ann, of Carrier Mills, Mrs. Januska, Ledford, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Chitty, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Brantley, Mrs. Minnie Holland, Harrisburg, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Shires, Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, Mrs. Ruby Walker, Wasson, Mrs. Pearl Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. John Wetland, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Kincaid, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Rich of Eldorado, Mr. and Mrs. George Holland and children, Carol and Jimmie, of Marion.

Dinner Party Honors Mrs. Arthur Will

Mrs. and Mrs. Arthur Will of Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, and her father, Ira Armstrong of Seattle, Wash., have been visiting friends and relatives in southern Illinois over the past week end. This is their first visit to Harrisburg in 18 years.

On Monday evening several girlhood friends of Mrs. Will enjoyed a dinner party at the 45 Drive-In, later going to the home of Mrs. Harley Shepherd where they spent the evening visiting, reading memory books and talking over old times.

Several of the group were unable to attend due to the inclement weather.

Those present were Mrs. Arthur Will, Mrs. Victor Hall, Mrs. Karl Wallace, Mrs. H. E. Lewis, Mrs. Mary Jane Rice, Mrs. Harley Shepherd and Mrs. Bob Mitchell.

Delta Alpha Alumnae Chapter No. 2 Holds First Fall Meeting

The Delta Alpha Alumnae chapter No. 2 met recently at the home of Mrs. Francis Jahn for the first fall meeting.

Following a short business meeting the group played cards with prizes being awarded to Mrs. Charles Skaggs, first place winner, and Mrs. Harry Wirth second. Supper was enjoyed afterwards.

Other members present were Mrs. Dale Sullivan, Mrs. Charles Ford, Mrs. Charles Farrar, Mrs. Mitch Golish and one guest, Mrs. Ralph Horning Jr.

Army May Court Martial 35 Former Prisoners in Korea

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army said today that court martial charges may be brought against about 35 officers and enlisted men for alleged violations of the articles of war while prisoners in Korea. The Army now is investigating charges against them which range from teaching communism to mistreating fellow-prisoners. It said investigations are being conducted by commanders of continental Army areas. The Army said there are fewer than a dozen cases in any single area. "In those cases where investigation reveals evidence warranting such action, charges will be preferred against individuals by the Army commanders," a statement said.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Because President Eisenhower added some unscheduled remarks to his Hollywood Bowl speech Thursday night and ran over his allotted TV time by four minutes, the sponsoring Republican Women's clubs were out an additional $8,000. It cost the Republican women $2,000 a minute for the overtime.

U. of Toronto Freshmen Face Disciplinary Action

TORONTO, Ont. (AP)—Disciplinary action today faced 200 freshmen engineers whose "get-acquainted" tour of University College developed into a near riot.

The freshmen, advised 24 hours earlier that "good manners and good morals" should keynote their university careers, struck and injured a professor, stripped a male student of his clothes and snatched initiation halos from the heads of young co-eds.

They also carried girls shoulder high, stole bulletin boards, ripped posters from college walls, blocked the path of a sightseeing bus, pushed it around and left cars parked behind and in front of it.

Another 100 boarded subway trains Thursday night, dressed in pajamas and face-blackened by boot polish. Two of them read Romeo and Juliet to amuse passengers.

Expect Potato Prices To Remain Above Last Year's Harvest Level

WASHINGTON (AP)—Potato prices should stay up this fall well above last year's harvest-time "bankruptcy" level, an Agriculture Department expert predicted today.

Albert E. Mercker, Agricultural Marketing Service specialist, conceded that it's hard to predict anything "hard and fast" at this point, with much of the crop just beginning to move.

The latest federal price report showed growers averaged in mid-August about $1.41 a bushel for spuds compared with 84 cents the same time last year.

Mrs. Elizabeth Coleman Of Shawneetown Dies

Mrs. Elizabeth Coleman, 75, resident of Shawneetown, died in the Ferrell hospital last night.

The body will lie in state at the Wright funeral home in Shawneetown and Saturday morning will be taken to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Cornelia Doer of New Shawneetown.

Funeral plans are incomplete.

Obliging Wife

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A 29-year-old man told police from a hospital bed today that he had an obliging wife.

He said he and his spouse had an argument that culminated in his handing her a loaded rifle and saying: "All right, shoot me."

She did.

General Seeks New Field as Church Deacon

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—The tall general with the traditional clear blue eyes of a flyer is searching a new horizon today and he said he is "excited and enthusiastic" about what he sees.

He is Brig. Gen. Lester J. Maitland, flying pioneer, commander at Clark Field in the Philippines when Japan catapulted the United States into World War II, later still a general of the bomber command in Europe.

By this time next year, the retired Air Force officer hopes to be "serving God" as an Episcopal deacon "probably in the Upper Michigan Peninsula."

Here for the annual convention of the Association of State Aviation officials, the 55-year-old general said "I've felt a growing urgency to do this over a period of years, particularly after the war (World War II)."

He admitted his age had a lot to do with his revelation Tuesday that he wants to trade his state job and good salary for a humble new start with the church, putting behind him his 30 years of military service in two world wars.

Maitland said he always had been a "devout man" but concern whether he was "worthy" had kept him from taking the biggest step in his life until last February when he began his studies.

When Maitland joined the Air Force in 1917, he says he felt no urgency to become a minister—"I was nuts about flying."

Ten years later, Maitland and Lt. Albert Hegenberger flew an Army plane from the United States to Honolulu, Hawaii, for the first air crossing of the Pacific ocean, a month after Charles A. Lindbergh's historic flight across the Atlantic.

He believes his background will help him in his "ultimate and most worthy career, provided I am worthy."

Bullet Fired Into U. S. Consulate Window at Pusan

PUSAN, Korea (AP)—An unidentified rifleman put a bullet through a window of the U. S. Consulate here today, showering Vice Consul Gordon K. Mott with broken glass. He was not injured.

"A bullet, apparently from a small caliber rifle, was fired through a third-floor window of the Pusan Consulate at 2:08 p. m., missing Mr. Mott by less than a foot," Consul Charles B. Borell announced.

In Seoul, Ambassador Ellis O. Briggs promptly delivered an angry protest to Foreign Minister Pyun Yung Tai.

Briggs advised Pyun that the United States considers recent South Korean official complaints about U. S. aid as being responsible for the attack.

CIO Steelworkers Vote to Bar Reds from Union

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Delegates to the CIO United Steelworkers convention amended the constitution of the 1,200,000 member union today to bar Communists from membership.

The constitutional change, voted at the closing session of the steel union's seventh biennial meeting, reflected the strong right-wing position of USW President David J. McDonald, who Thursday won rousing support from the delegates for a proposal to unite all unions of the nation in a federation supporting CIO policies.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, sent a telegram to the convention following McDonald's speech urging concerted action between the steel and mine unions. But he lent no support to McDonald's proposed merger of the CIO, the UMW, the AFL, and the railroad brotherhoods.

Lewis charged the CIO was dominated by "intellectual inebriates" and that the AFL was characterized by "perfidy."

Cost of Living Shows Slight Decline

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cost of living declined two tenths of 1 per cent last month to the level of a year ago, mainly because of lower food prices, the government reported today.

The decline was not enough to affect the pay of almost one million railroad workers whose wages are tied to the Bureau of Labor Statistics' consumer price index.

The BLS reported that in mid-August the price index stood at 115 per cent of average 1947-49 prices. This is the same as August, 1953, but 13 per cent above the level of June, 1950.

In addition to food price cuts, the BLS reported "substantial" cuts in prices of TV sets and radios. It said there were some price cuts in clothing, household linens, and furniture, new car prices, and gasoline.

Banks Held Up in New York and Ohio

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y. (AP)—Two gunmen held up a suburban drive-in branch of the County Trust Co. today and fled with more than $100,000.

Four bank employees were trussed up with twine and their own belts after they opened the safe that held the money. They were unhurt.

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A two-state alarm was out today for two gunmen who held up the Farmers and Citizens Bank at Trotwood, northeast of here, and escaped with an estimated $50,000 to $70,000 Thursday.

Roadblocks have been set up in Ohio, and Indiana police have been alerted to be on the lookout for the bandits believed to be riding in a 1949 or 1950 black Dodge sedan stolen in Dayton.

Braves Ordered to Replay Ninth Inning with Reds; Then Play Cards

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Braves, who made history in attendance records this year, will mark up a new modern baseball record today when they play two different games on the same day in the same ballpark.

The unusual situation resulted from a ruling Thursday by National League President Warren Giles that the ninth inning of Wednesday's disputed game with the Redlegs be played over before the scheduled game with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Redlegs Manager Birdie Tebbets' protest over the 3-1 victory given the Braves Wednesday by the umpires was upheld by Giles because "The result of the game in question could affect the final standings and the World Series share of five clubs."

He ruled that the game be resumed in the top half of the ninth inning, with Cincinnati at bat and two out, runners on second and third and the Braves leading, 3-1.

The play that caused the ruckus occurred Wednesday in the top half of the ninth inning with third and the Braves leading, 3-1. Wally Post was on first and Gus Bell on second with one man out, and Bob Borkowski pinch-hitting. Borkowski swung at the third strike, but catcher Del Crandall did not get the ball and Borkowski, forgetting he was automatically out, started for first, with Post and Bell also running. Crandall recovered and threw to Eddie Mathews at third too late to catch Bell sliding in and Mathews' throw to first hit Borkowski and bounced away. Bell and Post then continued across the plate.

The umpires, led by Plate Umpire Hal Dixon, ruled this way: Borkowski was out, striking out. He had no right to run on the wild pitch with first base occupied. Bell was ruled out because Borkowski "interfered" at first by running there when he shouldn't have. Giles said that while he understood the ruling of the umpires made "under the pressure of making the decision on the field," he could not concur.

Louisville, Indianapolis Tie Series at One Each

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Louisville and Indianapolis were tied at one win each today in the final playoffs of the American Association following the Colonels' dramatic 11th inning 2-0 shutout here over the Indians.

Pete Dailey cracked the scoreless pitching duel between the Indians' Herb Score and the Colonels' Ike Delock in the last stanza when he hit a single that scored two runs for the winning margin.

Indians Seek New Record Of 111 Victories

By United Press
The triumphant Cleveland Indians, looking to add some embroidery to the pennant they have already clinched, aimed for their 111th victory of the season today which would break an American League record held by the New York Yankees since 1927.

Early Wynn (22-11) was Manager Al Lopez' nominee to seek the record today against George Zuverink (9-12) of Detroit.

The Indians, with a record of 110 victories and only 41 defeats, own a percentage of .728, which eclipsed the .714 mark posted by the famed "Murderers' Row" Yankee team of 1927 which lost 44 games while winning 110.

Cleveland, with only two more games left after today, can not possibly equal the major league record of 116 victories in a single season set by the Chicago Cubs in 1906. The Cubs lost only 36 games that year for a .763 percentage.

In the only action on the major league front Thursday, Stan Lopata's three-run homer in the first inning propelled the Phillies to a 4-2 victory over the Pirates in a regularly scheduled game after the Phils edged the Bucs, 7-6 in the completion of a suspended game.

Robin Roberts, hurling only one inning, gained his 23rd victory in the abbreviated contest when the Phils broke a 6-6 tie with a run in the ninth on Del Ennis' infield out with the bases filled. Richie Ashburn came home as the Pirates missed making a double play. The game was a continuation of the 6-6 deadlock of Aug. 15 caused by the Pennsylvania curfew law.

In the regular game, Lopata smashed his 14th homer off Paul LaPalme after a walk to Ashburn and a single by Johnny Wyrostek. Herman Wehmeier scattered seven hits for his 11th victory.

Braves Pay $225,000 Rent for Stadium

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves shared their profit with Milwaukee County Thursday night when Lou Perini handed the County Park Commission a $225,000 check for voluntary stadium rent.

The Braves have a contract that calls for payment of $25,000 per year, the same as last year.

Giants Have Defensive Edge; Indians Offense

By LEO H. PETERSEN
United Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—The Giants have the defensive edge and the Indians the offensive advantage when it comes to the infield and catching. There are many baseball men who feel that tighter infield defense of New York will offset to a large degree the superiority which Cleveland figures to have in pitching.

On a man to man comparison, the National League pennant winners rate the defensive edge at first, second and third with the first string catchers, Jim Hegan of the Indians and Wes Westrum of the Giants, rated on equal terms. At short, the Indians with George Strickland have a man who can cover more ground than Al Dark of the Giants.

But at first it is Whitey Lockman of the Giants over Vic Wertz of the Indians in fielding; Davey Williams at second over Bobby Avila and Henry Thompson over Al Rosen at third.

In offensive power, the Indians rate a big edge with Avila over Williams and Rosen over Thompson. Wertz and Lockman are about equal but Dark far overshadows Strickland at the plate.

Neither Hegan nor Westrum is a heavy hitter, but both hit the long ball occasionally. Through Wednesday's games, Hegan was hitting .238 with seven homers and 34 runs batted in against .183, eight homers and 27 rbi's for Westrum.

Wertz is hitting a point over Lockman, .256 to .255. He has hit 15 homers and batted in 61 runs while Lockman has driven 16 out of the park and sent 60 runners across the plate.

Avila is almost a cinch to win the American League batting title and is out-hitting Williams, .337 to .225. He has hit 14 homers and driven in 66 runs against nine homers and 46 rbi's for Williams. At third, Rosen is batting .300 against .267 for Thompson. Thompson has the most homers, 26 to 24, but the Indian third sacker has driven in the most runs, 101 to 86.

Dark, the sparkling of the Giants' infield who teams brilliantly with Williams as a superior double play combination to Strickland and Avila, is hitting .296 with 20 homers and 69 runs batted in. Strickland is batting only .213 with five homers and 34 rbi's.

As a group the Cleveland infield regulars and No. 1 catcher are hitting an average of .269 with 65 homers and 330 runs batted in. The same Giant players have a .245 average with 79 homers and 288 rbi's.

Cleveland has the stronger bench with Hank Majeski, Sam Dente, Bill Glynn and Rudy Regalado rated over Bobby Hoffman and Bill Gardner, the two top Giant reserves. Hoffman, however, has been a clutch pinch hitter for the Giants.

Grayson Picks Giants to Win

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor
NEW YORK (NEA)—Who do you like in the World Series? It's time to stick out your neck. This handicapper's guess is the Giants in six games.

I seriously doubt that the Indians' pitchers will overpower the better balanced and swifter Polo Grounders, and it is along this line alone that the Cleveland club has been made the favorite.

Al Lopez figures to get extraordinary pitching from his Big Three—Bob Lemon, Early Wynn and Mike Garcia—but not to the extent that they will thoroughly handcuff a batting order that is extremely dangerous from Whitey Lockman down through Don Mueller.

Exhibition games do not mean too much, but the lakeside pitchers were most certainly hitting their stride in the clubs' last several engagements last spring, and the Giants copped the series, 13 to 8.

The Tribe fattened up in a decidedly poor circuit. There was little or nothing in the American League after the Indians, Yankees and White Sox, as the games behind column so plainly shows.

While it was also a three-horse scramble in the National, the opposition was quite formidable below the Giants, Dodgers and Braves. The Reds, Phillies, Cardinals and Cubs could hurt you. The Pirates stirred up trouble for the Giants and wound up belting the Brooks out of contention.

Listening to American Leaguers, you'd suspect that the New York side had no pitching to speak of. It's been remarkable, as a matter of fact, with Johnny Antonelli, Sal Maglie and Ruben Gomez, backed up by two of the slickest iron men who ever slipped on jumpers in a bull pen—Marvin Grissom and Hoyt Wilhelm.

If Leo Durocher has to go to a fourth starter, which he probably will, I look for the manager to use Don Liddle, a courageous left-hander who knows what to do with breaking stuff.

Running through the lineup, the Giants must be given a bulge at five positions—first base, shortstop, third base and center and right field.

Vic Wertz, the converted right fielder, can make mistakes at first base. There is no telling what would happen there if the smart-er Giants start dragging balls in that direction. Wertz will murder medium or junk pitching, but in no way can be compared with Whitey Lockman.

Bobby Avila figures to far out-hit Davey Williams at second base, but the little Giant is hardly an All-America out. Williams has no peer defensively, where the Mexican can be faulted. George Strickland may make all the plays for the Indians at shortstop, but Alvin Dark is one of the truly great players of the game. Al Rosen may hit for a higher average than Hank Thompson, but the Giant is the

WHAT A RELIEF!—Relief pitching has been the story of the New York Giants this season and the bulk of it has been done by Mary Grissom, left, and Hoyt Wilhelm.

Big Ten Grid Season Opens Tomorrow; Michigan State, Iowa Play Highlight Game

CHICAGO (AP)—The Big Ten's 59th football season opens Saturday with two league games, one of them affecting two of the rated contenders for the title, defending champion Michigan State and Iowa.

The Spartans, under new Coach Duffy Daugherty, won five of six league games last year to tie Illinois for the title.

Iowa, on the other hand, broke even in six conference games to finish in a fifth place tie.

But for their spectacle Saturday, the game was even. Both clubs have veteran lineups with the Hawkeyes boasting an edge in weight and the Spartans rated with more speed.

Michigan State has been ranked along with Wisconsin and Illinois as one of the top contenders for the 1954 conference title, while Iowa, fast improving at the close of the 1953 season, was classed as a lead-in darkhorse.

Ohio Opens Against Hoosiers
Another darkhorse title threat, Ohio State, also will open against a conference foe. The Buckeyes will entertain Indiana, bolstered by a standout sophomore, Milt Campbell, and the home team was rated a 14-point favorite.

Every other club in the circuit will be in action against non-conference foes and all of the Big Ten teams were favorites.

Michigan, also in a fifth place tie last year, faced what appeared to be the hardest path, traveling to Seattle to tangle with Washington. The Wolverines were rated a 14-point choice with veterans available to Coach Benny Oosterbaan for virtually every position.

Illinois likewise faced a tough scrap, against a rugged Penn State team at Champaign. But the Illini were a two-touchdown choice, particularly on the basis of an improved backfield with sophomore

Harris Resigns As Manager Of Senators

WASHINGTON (AP)—Manager Bucky Harris of the Washington Senators resigned today, effective with the close of the season Sunday.

The resignation was announced by owner Clark Griffith, who said he expected to announce Harris' successor Monday night in New York.

Speculation centered on Charley Dressen, former Brooklyn Dodgers manager with whom Griffith will confer in New York Monday.

Griffith said he also will talk with "two or three other fellows" and said that Phil Rizzuto, veteran New York Yankee, shortstop "might be one of them." Griffith also was expected to confer with Jimmy Dykes, outgoing manager of the Baltimore Orioles.

Griffith announced Harris' resignation after a long distance telephone conference with the one time "boy wonder" who will bow out in a four game series against the Boston Red Sox.

"The reason for this early announcement is to give Bucky the opportunity to consider the many offers that have been made him." The announcement originally was to have been made Monday morning but was advanced three days when reports of Harris' imminent departure became widespread.

Harris' current contract expires Sunday. His resignation ends his third term as manager of the Senators. He has piloted the club 18 seasons over a 30-year span.

The team now is in sixth place and has finished in the second division during the previous four years of Harris' latest hitch.

Griffith said he did not know what Harris' future plans are, but he said Harris has had "several offers."

Giardello-Tiger Jones Bout Tonight

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Philadelphia's Joey Giardello, who regards himself as most likely to succeed middleweight champion Bobo Olson, risks a possible title shot tonight when he meets Ralph (Tiger) Jones of Yorkers, N. Y., in a nationally televised 10-rounder at the Arena.

The 24-year old Giardello is the No. 1 contender in the 160-pound class but a loss to the bobbing and weaving Jones would drop him a peg or two.

Expect Large Crowd As Bull Dogs Play Marion Tonight at Taylor Field

A huge crowd is expected at Taylor Field tonight when the Bull Dogs of Harrisburg meet the Marion Wildcats and Coach Lawrence Calufetti is hoping that the locals get off on the right foot in the South Seven conference race.

Game time is 7:30 p. m. and with weather conditions good the Bull Dogs will have a fine crowd on hand to greet them, judging from the number of local fans who made the trip to Murphysboro last week.

Tonight's foe is not regarded as easy, because Charles Mathieu's squad ran over Carterville, 21 to 0, in its initial tilt.

The locals were rugged on defense against Murphysboro, but are yet to show a consistent offense. Maybe tonight will be the night.

The Harrisburg-Marion game is one of three in the South Seven, only West Frankfort playing a non-conference foe. Perhaps the one drawing the most attention throughout Egypt is the Benton-Centralia tilt at Benton. Both teams are highly regarded as possible South Seven champions.

The other loop contest finds Mt. Vernon at Herrin with the Wildcats favored to take the Rams. West Frankfort will meet non-conference Johnston City.

Bull Dog Backfield Candidate Killman Suffers Knee Injury

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs this week lost the services of a promising backfield candidate, Jim Killman, who suffered a recurrence of a knee injury.

Killman, a meet junior, injured the knee last year at Pontiac, Mich., and underwent an operation.

This week in practice the knee went bad on him and began swelling, although he was not even in contact work, but was just running plays.

Tiny stone tools, so delicate and small that the cutting edge can be studied only by using a powerful hand lens or microscope, were used by prehistoric people of the Arctic to carve on ivory.

Murphysboro, 7-0 winner over Harrisburg, gets into the Southwestern Egyptian conference battle this week with a tilt with Pinckneyville, and the Red Devils are favored to beat the Panthers, hardly ever as good in football as in basketball.

There will be two grid games in Saline county tonight, as Eldorado plays host to a good Metropolis team. Eldorado won last week, 14 to 12, at Anna-Jonesboro.

THE STORY: There seems to be a concerted effort to keep Private Detective Jim Dunn from reaching a summer cottage in which he will pose as a caretaker while doing some investigating work for Mrs. Kit Carlson. The Carlson family, very wealthy, is a matriarchy governed by the senior Mrs. Carlson, Mrs. Oswald. There are several other women in the group, all identified by the first names of their husbands.

The station wagon crossed a bridge over a noisy mountain stream and reached the level ground at the shore of Puma Lake. Diagonally across that smooth water, lights gleamed from "Carlson's Castle," separated on the shoreline from The Spires by the sheer walls of the high cliff known as "Lion's Head. But here, perpendicular dark fingers thrust up to shut out the plentiful stars.

Jim paused to a stop on a turn-around beside the house, turned off the motor.

"End of the line," Jim said. He turned off the headlights. Heavy darkness leaped at them from the rocky lurking places, and the sound of dashing water seemed louder and closer. Jim felt Nancy's fingers on his arm as he was already reaching for the switch. The headlights were welcome.

The house they showed was a long, rambling place, with bark peeling from the outside slabs. Before them a double garage showed doors sagging on bent and broken hinges.

There were two paths from the turnaround. One led around the house toward steps leading to a wide veranda. The other went directly toward a slab-covered door at ground level. Jim was out of the car, holding the door for Nancy, when she whispered in his ear. "Listen, Jim."

They stood motionless, straining to separate the noise of water from other night sounds. A high gust of wind whined in and out of rock crevices. The heavy, ground-level door of The Spires swung open a few inches.

Jim heard it then. A strange clanking, an evenly spaced clink-clank, clink-clank, which stopped abruptly as he swung his flashlight toward the small opening.

He walked forward cautiously, gun in one hand and light in the other. He sensed rather than heard Nancy following.

It was a full basement, a huge room, cut up by pillars of heavy logs resting on cement blocks. High pillars, a good nine feet, extending up to the huge logs which were the supports of the main house. A furnace, a neatly stacked pile of wood, a high pile of spring and mattresses, odds and ends of furniture, and a steep boarded-in stairway cut up the light of the flash, made weird and dancing shadows.

Somewhere above them, a door slammed.

Nancy grabbed him. "What do you think that was, Jim?"

"Someone leaving, I hope. We'll make sure we're alone down here."

A shadow-to-shadow search reassured them.

At the basement's far end, near the rockwork of the huge chimney which told of a mammoth fireplace above, a wooden platform, six feet by three, was suspended halfway up to the recessed opening in the ceiling by heavy ropes. The light of the flash showed large pulleys in this recess, which obviously made a combination bench and storage bin on the floor above.

A small winch was securely fastened to a supporting pillar, with several turns of rope wound on the drum.

"For wood," Jim muttered. "A hand-operated elevator to lift wood up to the floor above."

He moved the crank, turned it around. The platform elevator moved upward slowly and the pawl came out of the toothed wheel with a clink, settled into the next place with a clank.

"That's the noise, Jim," Nancy said. "Someone hauling up wood?"

A welcoming gesture?

Dunn held the light steady on the three pieces of wood on the platform. They were ready for dissolution. "Looks to me as if those pieces of wood have been around for years," Jim said. "I don't think it was our comfort the person who was raising that elevator had in mind."

near the door through which they had entered. The turning of the master switch put on half the lights in the house. The stairway door, unlocked, opened on a small, modern butler's pantry, swinging doors opened into a well-stocked kitchen and into a beam-ceilinged dining room. In contrast to the basement, everything upstairs had been thoroughly and recently cleaned.

They moved silently on through the wide arch into an even larger living room.

They made a quick search of the five bedrooms, three of which were ready for occupancy.

"Our client," Nancy pointed out, "didn't know the beds would be made up, or she wouldn't have had us bring along that load of new bedding."

They went to the front door, found it locked.

"First door we've found locked so far," Jim said. He unlocked and opened the door. A light was burning on the broad veranda, and it shone clearly on a carved sign. The Spires.

He slammed the front door with

Chicago Police Kill 3 Felons, Wound Another

CHICAGO (AP)—Sharp-shooting Chicago police killed three alleged felons in 24 hours and wounded another so critically today that he wasn't expected to live.

Those felled by police bullets were Chris Kanakes, 35, George Manos, 31, an unidentified Negro, and Frank Crofton, 23.

Crofton, who was shot when he resisted arrest, was wounded critically and not expected to live. The others died instantly.

Kanakes and Manos died in a trap set for them by Lt. Frank Pape, commander of the police robbery detail who previously was credited with slaying seven men in line of duty.

It was not known definitely whether Pape could add two more notches to his gun, since a detail of 12 men participated in the gunfight with the two men.

However, Pape yielded a machine gun in the battle and Manos had 13 bullets slammed into him while Kanakes was hit by nine.

relief. "Right place," he said. "Look, Nancy, why don't we help ourselves to something to eat? I'll go down and get our bags, and then we'll pick a room. We'll unload the jeep tomorrow and hunt around for the caretaker's cabin."
